Tie-free elastic shoelaces

"Last Knot"

Stretchy shoelaces make your footwear more comfy

+ allows to step in & out without tying a knot.

Patented product
Designed by Martynas Kazimierėnas & Vytautas Gečas

Firstly, "LAST KNOT" shoelaces means no more knot tying.

Elastic nature of our laces enable you to step in&out of a shoe with a knot in place. That's a month of your life. Imagine lacing shoes all that time instead of getting foot massage while listening to the Peruvian flute band? We do.

Secondly, "LAST KNOT" shoelaces makes any shoe a more comfortable shoe.

Stretchy laces reduce pressure points and enables you to move around more freely. We bet you'll even forget wearing a pair.

50% rubber thread
50% polyester, durable metal aglets

About us

MARCH is a product development company, founded in 2012 by Martynas Kazimierėnas and Egle Opeikienė. It currently operates from headquarters under the oak trees in Vilnius, the capital of Lithuania.

We constantly observe surroundings and things of daily use in a quest to find a gap – a new object, new invention, a new principle. MARCH has strong views on overproducing, making sure that we put in our pipeline only those objects that can be invented or re-invented. Like the safety reflector, which can improve your safety by being more wearable. That makes MARCH environment friendly company.

MARCH invents its own products and collaborates with other creative folk as well – our interest ranges from life saving reflectors to hand made lollipops. Company looks for a good idea in the first place, then proceeds with design, production and hands-on management.
