Description

About us Established in 1996, Daigai Printing House has specialized in the field of packaging and label manufacturing. Offset (sheet) and fleksographic (roll) printing technologies have been installed in the company used for the printing of labels, packaging, advertising production and publications. During nearly 20 years of operation, the company accumulated vast experience and joined together a team of professional designers, layout and polygraph specialists, what enables the staff of the printing house to provide professional and expeditious consulting, give advice and find a solution best suited to customers' needs and expectations.
