Description

Viltechmeda provides customers from all over the world with infusion pumps for general ward, intensive care, anesthesia and pain control. The development of new innovative pumps and continual improvement of existing models is regularly carried out in close cooperation with our customers, university clinics and hospitals. Viltechmeda assembles and tests pumps from the components produced by a diversified range of partners and suppliers, which allows the company to devote its resources to the highest value-added activities such as R&D, risk analysis and to focus on continuous improvement of caregiver and patient safety, as well as reduction of medication errors.
