Description

AirPLUS1 is a team of motivated developers and committed suppliers of Smart Ozone Solutions. Established in the Great Britain, today we develop and manufacture ozonation systems in Lithuania. We provide both – individually tailored engineering ozonation solutions projects and our already developed standard and intelligent ozone systems. Everything we do is for the complete control of unpleasant odours indoors and outdoors, for the reduction of bacterial and viral pollution in the air as well as in the water. We are proud to be flexible, because we own the development of ozonation systems ourselves, so we are extremely ready for individual design solutions and can always look for the best value for money to solve your air or water pollution problems.
