Description

LOGAGILE is a team of specialists with expertise in logistics, software engineering and project management. We offer solutions to the most common problems of small and medium-sized logistics companies. Our TMS was developed specifically for medium-sized logistics providers specializing in consolidated forwarding of LTL shipments. Featuring a complete toolset designed to aid an array of processes it is an effective solution to the industry's common problems. From customer acquisition and quote calculation to load planning and customs documents management, it is the most capable and universal toolset on the market. With Lean management principles in its core and Kanban in the DNA, LOGAGILE TMS takes logistics providers to another level. We at LOGAGILE are ready to offer services to help businesses transform and grow in today's digitized environment.
