Description

The art to invoke the nature is our main idea and challenge – bringing the secrets of nature and results of scientific research together. Over ten years of work with herbal essences and essential oils we have realized that great secrets lie in the nature and that it is joy, art, passion to get to know those secrets. We are happy to know how to invoke the nature and we share the result with our customers. In our activities we specialize in production of various nonsterile products –semisolid (ointments, creams, gels, solutions, liniments) and liquid preparations. We are fully responsible for the entire cycle: preparation of documentation, analyses, development of formula and production technology, production of test series, selection of quality control methods, full preparation of product for mass production, mass production, and sale. Our activities are given sense to by the following two main development trends: INOBIO ANIMALIS – preparations and medicinal products for professional use only (for cattle, pets, and horses). Various ointments, medicinal products, creams, gels, liquid feed supplements, shampoos, solutions, lotions, diagnosticums, and disinfectants for veterinary purpose are produced under this trademark. INOBIO HUMANICA – preparations for human beings for external use only (ointments, gels, creams), containing biologically active natural ingredients that helps solving problems related to various diseases or disorders. All products are made using scientifically proven herbal essences and essential
